2. Southern German FPV RACE - Nördlingen

The Robitronic-Team was on-site at the 2. Southern German FPV RACE in Nördlingen and had the chance to witness the thrilling competitive drone races. Besides, at our Robitronic stand we could present to numerous visitors the state-of-the-art innovations by Hobbywing.

Despite the mixed weather there were 120 pilots on the starting grid at this international event to compete in various disciplines with their drones. There was the opportunity for visitors not only to watch the races live with their own eyes, but also through borrowed FPV goggles thanks to the extensive use of technology on-site.

Besides the main race - which the Hobbywing teampilot Andreas Hahn won - there were also a team event, a freestyle contest and for the first time also a drag race: drones versus tuned cars (like Lambotghini, BMW or Audi R8), which the pilots easily won.
